

Come Join Us

Inspired by the work of Rotary International

When I see a need, I like to lend a hand.
We all need someone to understand
That there are people in this world
Who really need us now.
It's up to each of us to figure out how.

We are calling out around the world,
"Come Join Us!"
There is work for you and me.
We are building communities
and bridging continents
All around... all around... the world.

When I hear the call, "Service above self."
It's not just a slogan on my office shelf.
It's the way I choose to live.
The hand I have to give.
Thankful for the chance to give of myself.

We are calling out around the world,
"Come Join Us!"
There is work for you and me.
We are building communities
and bridging continents
All around... all around... the world.

Repeat Chorus...

We are calling out around the world,
"Come Join Us!"

About the Song

"When I see a need, I like to lend a hand..."

- Jerry Mills

In January, 2010, internationally acclaimed singer / songwriter, professional speaker and Rotarian Jerry Mills attended Rotary's International Assembly in San Diego, CA. It was this event, and the experience of meeting 2010-11 Rotary International President Ray Klingensmith and the more than five hundred Governors elect from districts all around the world, that inspired Jerry to compose a tribute to Rotarians in his song, Come Join Us.

Jerry offered Rotary International the use of the song as a means to promote the tremendous work and efforts of Rotarians worldwide.

In August, 2010, Jerry joined more than fifty musicians, singers, arrangers and recording engineers in Nashville, TN to produce the recording of this song. Video of that recording session was then combined with images of Rotary projects throughout the world to produce the inspirational music video of Come Join Us.

Thank you, Rotarians, for all that you do! - JM
